Sometimes things do occur in our everyday life – an unexpected change of plans can happen. LifeWalk Mission International will do its' best to accommodate these changes within the following cancellation guidelines. These guidelines are set up so that we can effectively proceed to do mission work for those who we will meet. Many eager folks in the host country are counting on us to arrive and minister as planned. Any pre-cancellation or interruption to the intended travel can be costly to the organization.

Your understanding to this arrangement is appreciated as we are unable to bear the full cost of a last minute cancellation and with no team member to replace at a moment's notice.
